The India Pentecostal Church of God (IPC) is the largest, indigenous, Pentecostal Movement in India. The movement was established in 1924 and registered in 1935 at Fluru under Societies Registration Act XXI of 1860. The large association is pastored from Hebron, Kumbanad, Kerala.

We met most of the pastors in the district and I had the opportunity to pray for, and with them & their wives. It was a real privilege to spend time with these men of God. I also had the opportunity to pray for Pastor Lazar & his wife and Dr Daniel and his wife. God did amazing things during these times, a time to be encouraged and see our awesome God at work.

The last week was certainly the most hectic – and rewarding- as far as ministry work was concerned. We would start our day at 8:30am and wouldn't return to our hotel until 11:30pm. We preached the gospel up to 3 times a day, once being able to stop production at a printing works. After having met the believers in a particular village, fellowshiped with them, we would visit their homes and pray for them!! What a privilege and very special memories.

One of the most special days was to visit the homes of the parents of Saro & Gowrie. Words cannot express how wonderful it was to spend time in the homes and villages of our special friends who God brought from India to Shetland.
